RELIGIONS OF THE POPULATION, CENSUS 1931

In this Bulletin the population enumerated in the Seventh Census of Canada is classified according to the denomination or sect to which the people professed adherence to or membership in. The instruction to enumerators for the collection of this information was as follows:—

“The religion of each person will be entered according as he or she professes, specifying the religious body, sect or community to which the person adheres or belongs or which he or she favours. An entry must be made in the proper column regarding the religious belief or affiliation of each and every person enumerated in the Census.”

The improvement in Census field work between the first Census for all Canada under federal direction and that of the last Census is indicated by the fact that in 1881, more than 80,000 persons or 2·07 of the total population were reported without a statement of denominational affiliation; in 1891, 80,267 or 1·66 per cent of the total population were so reported; in 1901, 43,222 or about four-fifths of one per cent; in 1911, 32,490 or less than one-half of one per cent; in 1921, 19,259 or 0·22 per cent, while in the last Census the total number reported without a religious affiliation was 16,042 and of this number 7,825 were Chinese absent from Canada on a Government two year Permit, leaving only 8,217 or about eight in every ten thousand persons present in Canada on June 1st, 1931 from whom a statement of religious affiliation was not obtained by the enumerator.

In this bulletin the tables give the number of persons reported under each denominational group. In the final volumes for the Census there will be tables cross classifying the population by religions according to quinquennial age groups for provinces rural and urban.

RELIGIONS DE LA POPULATION, RECENSEMENT DE 1931

Dans le présent bulletin la population dénombrée dans le Septième Recensement du Canada est classifiée selon la religion ou croyance à laquelle elle adhère ou qu'elle pratique. Les instructions aux énumérateurs chargés du recueil de ces données se lisent comme suit:

"La religion de chaque individu doit être inscrite selon ce qu'il professe, spécifiant l'organisation religieuse, la dénomination confessionnelle, la secte ou communauté à laquelle cet individu adhère ou appartient ou qu'il favorise. Dans cette colonne il faut faire une entrée de la confession ou affiliation religieuse de chaque individu énuméré au Recensement."

Le perfectionnement qu'accuse le travail d'énumération entre le premier recensement effectué au Canada sous l'égide du gouvernement fédéral et le dernier recensement se reflète dans le fait qu'en 1881 plus de 80,000 individus, soit 2.07 p.c. de la population globale, étaient énumérés sans aucun détail relativement à leur religion; en 1891, il y en avait 80,267, soit 1.66 p.c. de la population; en 1901, 43,222, ou environ 0.80 p.c.; en 1911, 32,400, ou moins de 0.50 p.c.; en 1921, 19,259, ou 0.22 p.c. alors que pour le dernier recensement le chiffre était de 16,042, dont 7,825 Chinois absents du Canada en vertu d'un permis officiel valide pour deux ans, ce qui fait que seulement 8,217 individus, ou environ huit sur dix mille âmes de la population effective du 1er juin 1931, étaient énumérés sans détails se rapportant à leur religion.

Les tableaux du présent bulletin donnent le nombre d'individus appartenant à chaque dénomination. Les derniers volumes du Recensement contiendront des tableaux donnant la classification croisée de la population selon les groupes d'âges quinquennaux, par provinces, tant pour les districts ruraux que pour les districts urbains.
